Project Description

Was built to encourage the young generation to start reading books while embracing digitalization. It features a simple user interface consisting of three main menus. The entire project was developed by a team of 3 people (2 developers, 1 UI/UX designer). The application was constructed using the flutter framework while utilizing the Firestore and Google authentication featured by Firebase. The development process started from combining and collecting all the required designs and data then followed by the code development process using dart programming language.
